

Andrea Kárpáti is Professor of Education and UNESCO Chairholder at Eötvös Loránd University, Faculty Sciences, Centre for Multimedia in Education. Her recent research projects include EU-funded CALIBRATE (development and testing of the European Learning Resource Exchange) NEMED (testing IKT solutions and training programmes for Multigrade schools) and KP-Lab (developing teacher training scenarios with ICT). Her centre is the Hungarian consortium member of EPICT, the European pedagogical ICT Licence.

Andrea Kárpáti is member of the editorial board of three international scientific journals, member of the Executive Committee of EDEN (European Distance Education Network), Vice Chair of the Technical Committee 3.3, Research into ICT in Education of IFIP (International Federation of Information Processing), TC3. She is member of the Executive Board of the UNESCO Commission, Hungary and President of the Subcommittee for ICT in Education of the Educational Committee of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences.